Do I have to attend the auction?

No, you don't have to attend the auction, but we hope that you will want to. This is our major fundraiser we encourage you to attend if you'd like to support the program and make some fun purchases. We also rely on our parent base to invite others to attend with you that are supporters of your player (grandparents, aunts & uncles) or supporters of the Bothell football program than enjoy an auction and contributing to fundraising activities. This a fun adult evening out not a place for young children.

What is the Dessert Auction?

Each table will have a dessert bid card on it when you sit down for dinner. Each person/couple sitting at the table can put a dollar amount on the card with their bid number to purchase a dessert. When all bids are complete the card will be picked up by a player and totaled. Following the dinner, the auctioneer will call out the table who bid the highest dollar amount to go pick out a dessert. Each table will be called in descending dollar order until all tables have a dessert. The highest bidders get first choice of all desserts available!

Who coordinates and organizes the auction?

The auction is an event organized by the parent community of Cougar Football Club in coordination with school administration. While the auction chair and committee do much of the basic planning and foundation work, it is the work of numerous parents that is essential in making this massive undertaking a success.
